The Manitoba Provincial Legislature Postpones Action

ON THE SEPARATE SCHOOL ORDER.

Meantime Protestant Ontario Upholds the Manitoba Argument, While Catholic Quebec Insists Upon Obedience to Superior Authority.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 27.—The first step in the renewed fight over parochial schools in Manitoba began in the legislature yesterday afternoon, when the first full message was presented from the Dominion government at Ottawa, ordering the Manitoba legislature to give the Catholics their rights as they existed before the abolition of the parochial schools in 1890.

Mr. Martin, a French Catholic member of the legislature, urged that the government should take immediate action, but Premier Greenway protested, saying that the message should be printed in order that all members might know what they were dealing with. Here the matter rested and the discussion will now probably not take place till tomorrow. Meanwhile the situation grows more complicated. The Catholics say that Greenway and his followers, if they reject the order from Ottawa, are rejecting a document ordered and signed by her majesty the queen, and such act would be equivalent to open rebellion. They say they cannot conceive how the Dominion government could do otherwise than make the formal request to have it made, as they are bound, so far as they are in power, to take immediate action upon the decision of the highest court and see that the grievances of her majesty's subjects of the Roman Catholic faith in Manitoba receive redress at the earliest possible moment.

The Greenway government contends, on the other hand, that the present school law is satisfactory to many Catholics if it were not for the agitation by the priests of the church. They say that if Manitoba is coerced into recreating a dual system, dualism, both in language and education, will be extended to the territories as well, and thus would be perpetuated in the west the evils which have caused dissatisfaction and stagnation in the province. Among the members on the government side it seems to be a matter of opinion that the remedial order will be disposed of during the coming week. Premier Greenway denies that he will compromise the matter by introducing a bill making the schools entirely secular.

IN PROTESTANT ONTARIO.

The Action of the Dominion Government Very Unpopular.

OTTAWA, March 27.—The news from Winnipeg that Premier Greenway has declared that "the governor general's order will be rejected in its entirety," while not unexpected, has created great excitement in official circles. It is admitted that the situation is pregnant with critical possibilities, and that much depends upon the action of the Dominion government. It is, of course, possible that the Manitoba legislature may shelve the question for a year, as the federal parliament has no jurisdiction till the government of the province acts, or refuses to act on the remedial order. But this seems hardly likely to happen, judging from the reports of the feeling among the majority of the people of Manitoba.

The British North American act is in many ways an elastic affair, and it will be a difficult matter for the Dominion government to decide that it has or that it has not the right to interfere in the educational legislation of the provinces. If it should decide to interfere it is probable that such interference would make the political divisions of Canada coincide with its great religious division, or would lead to a series of appeals to the courts, the end of which can scarcely be foreseen.

So far the action of the government has resulted in stirring up a feeling in Ontario very hostile to itself, while in Quebec it has had a directly contrary effect. None of the party organs in Ontario dare to commit themselves to any definite statement as to the course to be pursued towards Manitoba, but the independent journals, without exception, cry out against any interference by the Dominion in the school affairs of the province. Their cry is "Hands off," and there is no doubt as to that being the sentiment of the great majority of Protestant Ontario.

IN CATHOLIC QUEBEC.

The French Papers of That Province Denounce "Orangism."

MONTREAL, March 27.—The excitement in Quebec over the school question is none the less real because it is in a measure subdued for the time being. It is not yet known what will be the action of the Dominion government on the refusal of Manitoba to grant remedial legislation to the Catholics, and until it is known there will be no great public outburst. The tone of the French press, however, distinctly indicates what will happen if "Orangism," as they term it, triumphs and the Manitobans are permitted to disobey an order from supreme authority.

Considerable ill feeling among the French Catholics has been created by a paper read before the Protestant Ministerial association by Rev. W. T. Graham, and which has been ordered to be printed in full by the association. Rev. Graham made a bitter attack on the Jesuits, and called on all loyal citizens to unite to secure their eviction from Canada. Mr. Graham closed his address with the declaration that the right of Manitoba to enact her own school laws must be preserved.

Touching Scene in a Court Room.

HENNINGTON, W. Va., March 27.—The preliminary hearing of Charles Ringo, the alleged murderer of his two children, was again postponed until Saturday. Mrs. Ringo now believes her husband guilty. When they met in the court room yesterday Ringo fell at her feet, wept bitterly and pleaded with her not to forsake him during his trouble. The scene was very touching.

VIOLATED QUARANTINE LAWS.

Secretary Carlisle Took His Son from the Steamer Paris Prematurely.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Collector Kilbreth has received from Surveyor John C. Maguire a report of the alleged violation of the quarantine law committed by Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle, the highest official of the customs department. The collector, however, positively refused to make public the contents of the document.

The trouble has arisen on account of the secretary's anxiety to care for his son, William K. Carlisle. The young man arrived in port last Saturday on the American line steamer Paris, after a month's tour abroad. The secretary went down to Quarantine in the revenue cutter and took his son off the steamer before the passengers had been inspected by Health Officer Doty. This constitutes a violation of the state laws, hence the trouble.

Four Injured at a Chicago Fire.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Fire in the Bell clothing house, at the corner of State and Quincy streets, destroyed the entire contents of the establishment above the second floor, but left standing the walls of the building from the floor to the roof. The fire occurred in the busiest part of the day, when the store was crowded with customers, and it is remarkable that no lives were lost. The following were injured: C. H. Smith, leg broken and bruised about body in jumping from the fourth story window; Dick Burns, an elevator boy, slightly burned about the face; Grace Mettall, a clerk, bruised by a fall and carried from the building; Helen Caesar, a clerk in an adjoining store, overcome by smoke. Samuel Cohen, a salesman, and John Dichel, the engineer, had a narrow escape from death. The property loss is $150,000.

Charged with Parricide.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 27.—Noah Strevel, aged 23, son of Stewart Strevel, the ranchman who was found before his own lonely hearth on his ranch with his throat cut and his head crushed, was arrested yesterday charged with the murder of his father, whom he had never seen until last July. In 1893 Strevel deserted his wife, and the boy was born a few months afterward. Since the old man's mysterious murder young Strevel, his sole heir, has been suspected. Strevel's deserted wife, believing him dead, had remarried.

Changes in the Whisky Trust.

CHICAGO, March 27.—It is authoritatively announced that important changes in the producing facilities of the whisky trust would be made shortly. Five or six of the distilleries now leased by the trust, and which are not in operation, will be dropped. Some of the leases will be cancelled by agreement of the owners, and other distilleries on which the leases soon expire will not be re-leased. It is also stated that the reorganization committee will soon make some important additions to the trust property.

Fatal Explosion in a Cellar.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 27.—John Palavant, a boarder at the house of William Lewis, went into the cellar with a highroad match, when an explosion took place which wrecked the house and knocked Palavant insensible. His clothing caught fire, and he was fatally burned before being rescued by Lewis. Mrs. Lewis and three children were thrown to the floor by the force of the explosion and badly injured.

Fatal Quarrel Over a Rent Bill.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., March 27.—William Taylor, an ex-policeman, and John R. Tucker, a police court lawyer, fought over a question of rent, Taylor claiming it was due him from Tucker. #### Six Prisoners Escape.

WILFELD, Kan., March 27.—About midnight a successful attempt at jail breaking was accomplished and six prisoners, charged with grand larceny, burglary and arson, escaped. The jail was crowded, but only six took the opportunity to escape. The sheriff immediately offered a reward and organized a searching party, but as yet none of the escaped prisoners have been apprehended.

Burglars as Cheap Laborers.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 27.—During the night thieves entered the shoe store of Robert Hilles, in South Wilmington, and stole his iron safe. They carried it over half a mile to Eden park and broke it open. It contained only ten cents and some insurance papers. They took the money and left the papers.

KANSAS CITY, March 27.—The special grand jury summoned to investigate frauds admitted at the report yesterday twelve indictments were returned, eleven of which were for crimes against election laws.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

The Judicial Apportionment Bill Passes the House Finally.

HARRISBURG, March 27.—The judicial apportionment bill passed the final stages in the house yesterday with only thirty-four votes against it. Nine of these were recorded by Republicans. Mr. Kipp, of Pike, was the only Democrat who voted for the bill. The surprise of the session was the refusal of the house to pass the bill increasing the salary of the superintendent of public printing from $2,000 to $3,000 a year.

The Gould bill, changing the poor system of the state so as to require counties to erect homes for the care and treatment of their poor, was killed on second reading. The Quay county bill went through on second reading on a special order and will be considered this afternoon on third reading. The bill was amended by providing that a new county may be established in every district in this commonwealth containing not less than 40,000 inhabitants and an area of not less than 40 square miles, and no line of which shall pass within less than ten miles of the county seat of any county proposed to be divided, provided that no new county shall be established which shall reduce any county in area or population below the limits specified by the constitution. The sanction of a majority of the five leading state officers is necessary.

The bill creating a separate orphan's court in Schuylkill county, and the bill repealing the act authorizing county commissioners to rebuild bridges owned by corporations that may be or have been destroyed by ice or otherwise abandoned by such corporations passed the house finally.

A bill was introduced by Mr. McDonald, of Allegheny, constituting eight hours a day's work for mechanics, women and laborers in the employ of the state or any municipality, and providing that such persons shall receive not less than the prevailing rate of wages in the respective rates and callings. State and municipal officers violating the proposed act shall be guilty of malfeasance in office and liable to suspension. Contractors who violate the act shall be fined not less than $200 nor more than $1,000 and forfeit the contract.

In the senate a concurrent resolution was adopted providing for the adjournment of that body from this week until Monday evening, April 8. Among the bills passed finally was one appropriating 2 per cent of the school tax in cities and boroughs for the establishment of free public libraries.

A Woman to be Hanged.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Maggie Tillor was yesterday condemned to be hanged for the murder of Charles Miller. The condemned is colored, and if the sentence is carried out, hers will be the first execution of a woman which ever occurred in Chicago. She became infatuated with a colored woman named Freda Huntington, and was violent in her jealousy of any attentions paid Miss Huntington. In December last she found Miller in Miss Huntington's company, and for this she shot him. The defense was insanity.

General de Campos Will Resign.

MADRID, March 27.—General Martinez de Campos has decided to resign his office of captain general of Madrid, regarding his mission as having ended with pacification of the riotous officers. The government is opposed to the bill General de Campos intends presenting to the senate, which provides for the trial by court martial of journalists who shall attack the army in their newspapers.

The Carson Mint Robbery.

CARSON, Nev., March 27.—It is quite evident something is in the air here with regard to the mint robbery, and it is expected that something will drop in a day or two. Inspector Mason says some bad business has been going on, but can say nothing yet. The general impression here is that the blame has been shifted from the shoulders of the present administration of the mint.

After Fred Douglass' Estate.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Rosette D. Sprague, a daughter of Fred Douglass, filed a petition asking that, pending the granting of letters of administration on the estate, letters of collection shall be issued to the end that there may be no waste of the property. The petition recites the failure thus far to file any will or other papers on the part of the widow or kinfolk of the dead man.

Mines Sentenced to Three Years.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Barry Mines, the former confidential clerk of the banking house of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., who was arrested on Wednesday last for alleged embezzlement of $100,000 from that house, pleaded guilty to an indictment of grand larceny before Justice Fitzgerald, and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Accidentally Killed His Playmate.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 27.—Two little boys named Jones and Banker were playing with a revolver. ## LI WILL NOT SURVIVE.

Sensational Report Arent the Wounded Peace Envoy.

HIS EXTREME AGE AGAINST HIM.

A Dispatch to a Metropolitan Newspaper Declares That the Mikado's Physician Has Reported Confidentially That There Is No Hope for China's Premier.

NEW YORK, March 27.—A special to The Press from Washington says: "In a private cablegram from Tokio received by a member of the Japanese legation here is conveyed news of world wide interest. According to this dispatch, which comes from the highest official source in Japan, a German physician, who is a professor at the University of Tokio, and an expert of high standing, was sent at the personal request of the emperor to examine Li Hung Chang's wound."

"After a thorough examination of his distinguished patient the physician reported confidentially to the mikado that Li Hung Chang must die. The wound is in the face, and the bullet, which the surgeon had not succeeded in extracting yesterday, is apparently beyond reach. Moreover, Li is 70 years of age, and, although a giant physically, his years are against him. The dispatch which conveys this information is a private and confidential one, but its trustworthiness is not doubted by its recipient, who gave the news to The Press correspondent."

The Chinese Concessions.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 27.—It is stated on good authority that in addition to the indemnity which will be guaranteed by the provisional occupation of the Chinese territory already occupied by the Japanese, Li Hung Chang, the Chinese peace envoy, is authorized to cede to Japan the Loo Choo islands, which lie to the south of Japan, the Majiao-Sima group, to the eastward of Formosa, the islands of Batan and Babuyan, which lie to the northward of the Philippines, and the Island of Formosa. Instructions have been given to Li Hung Chang ordering him to oppose any demand for the cession of territory on the Loo-Choo peninsula. As a last resort he may suggest the conversion of the peninsula into a buffer state between Korea and China on condition that it be placed under the protection of Russia, France and England.

A More Cheering Report.

SHIMONOSEKI, March 27.—The condition of Li Hung Chang is favorable. It is reported that he has now consented to the extraction of the bullet in his face. His only fear is a lack of cleanliness on the part of his physicians in using old instruments.

Our Claims Against Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—After months of deliberation the Venezuelan claims commission yesterday concluded its labors and announced its decision, being a judgment in favor of citizens of the United States for $143,500, about one-third of the amount of the claims. This judgment amounts to a declaration that countries subject to revolutions are responsible for the acts of insurgents against the rights and properties of foreigners, even if these acts are beyond their control. Senator Andrade, the Venezuelan representative on the commission, has given notice that he will file a dissenting opinion in the case.

Proposing a Reduction for Ironworkers.

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—The conference on the proposition of the Ohio valley manufacturers to pay only $3.50 per ton for puddling and a general reduction of 13 per cent in the finishing departments will be held on Saturday. Unless the manufacturers withdraw the proposition a strike is likely to be declared in the Shenandoah and Mahoning valleys, and fully 10,000 men will be idle.

Forgot to Lock the Jail Door.

WIGHT, Kan., March 27.—Twenty-six prisoners escaped from the city prison yesterday. Twelve were immediately recaptured, and the remainder ran in different directions, with officers in hot pursuit. #### Fined for Opening Another's Letter.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—The United States yesterday enforced, through the United States court, the penalty for opening another's letter in a peculiar case. John Stuttmeyer, an employee of the paper mill which buys the waste paper of the Cincinnati postoffice, found a few letters among the waste directed to parties in Chillicothe, O. Stuttmeyer found a check for $50 in one of them, and then wrote to the Chillicothe postmaster requiring a reward for returning the letters. He entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $25.

The indications now are that the appointment will be given to a citizen of Reading, Pa., now holding a prominent position in the treasury department.

A VICTIM OF SUPERSTITION.

Extraordinary Case Now on Trial in an Irish Court of Justice.

WATERFORD, March 27.—A most extraordinary case of murder, arising from superstition, was inquired into yesterday by the special court of Clonmel, twenty-five miles from here. Ten persons were arraigned before the court charged with murdering a woman named Cleary because they supposed her to be a witch. The prisoners included the murdered woman's husband and father. The evidence showed that Mrs. Cleary was suffering from nervousness and bronchitis, and her husband, believing her to be bewitched, obtained a concoction from a herbalist of the neighborhood. Then, while the other prisoners held the unfortunate woman in bed, her husband forced the obnoxious concoction of herbs down her throat.

After this the suffering woman was held over a fire and dreadfully burned, until she declared in the name of God that she was not Cleary's wife. This torture was repeated on the following day, but the woman refused to conform to her husband's requests, whereupon he knocked her down, stripped off her clothing, poured paraffin over her body, then lighted it and the woman burned to death in the presence of six male and two female relatives. Cleary declared that he was not burning his wife, but that he was burning a witch, and that she would disappear up the chimney.

When the woman was dead her husband collected her charred remains in a sheet and buried them in a dyke beneath the mud, where they were found a week later. The prisoners, who were remanded, narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the excited crowd in and about the court room, and had to be removed to jail in the escort of a strong force of constabulary.

Guilt of Conspiracy to Abduct.

BALTIMORE, March 27.—Judge Dennis decided the famous Toomer kidnapping conspiracy case yesterday afternoon. He found the four defendants, all colored, not guilty of the charge of conspiracy to kidnap, but guilty of the charge of conspiracy to abduct. In other words, he found them not guilty of the charge of conspiracy to take Mamie Toomer out of the state. Everett J. Waring, Dunbar Walton and Carrie W. Wilson were each fined $100 and costs, and Louis E. Franks $25 and no costs. They were charged with conspiracy to get Mamie Toomer, the daughter of Nathan Toomer, a wealthy colored planter of Augusta, Ga., out of St. Francis academy in order that a stepbrother of hers might meet her.

Entombed in a Mine.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 27.—Daniel Jenkins and John Hovak, two miners, were entombed at the Treskow colliery at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a fall of coal. Jenkins was reached at 6 o'clock last evening. He is so badly injured that he cannot live. Hovak is still inside. His cries can be heard at times, and it is thought he is badly injured and unable to help himself inside of the fall. Everything possible is being done to reach him in time to save his life.

Burglars Waste Their Dynamite.

AMELIA, O., March 27.—For the third time within a year the station of the Cincinnati, Georgetown and Portsmouth railroad was broken into Monday night. In the station is located the office of the Colter Packing company. The safe was blown across the room, completely demolishing the furnishings and bursting off the door. An adjoining blacksmith shop was damaged by the explosion. Nothing valuable was secured.

Strikers Offered a Compromise.

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—The Railroad Coal Operators' association has offered to enter into an agreement with the miners to pay sixty cents per ton for one year from April 1. A committee was appointed to confer with the miners' organization and present the compromise offer. It is not probable that the miners will accept the sixty-cent rate, they being on strike for sixty-nine cents.

Five Colorado Train Robbers Captured.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., March 27.—Five men are now under arrest charged with the robbery of the train on the Florence and Cripple Creek railway Saturday night. They are Bob Taylor, Frank Wallace, Lou Vannick, W. S. Crumley and James Gibson. Vannick, Crumley and Gibson are employed at the Strong mine. The bloodhound played an important part in tracing the men.

Death of a Brave Prison Warden.

MONTREAL, March 27.—Ex-Warden Laviolette, of St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, died yesterday. It was he who subdued the great convict revolt eight years ago at the penitentiary. At the time of the revolt he was captured by the convicts in the yard and used as a shield while they made an attack on the wall. The guards naturally feared to fire, but Laviolette ordered them to do their duty, with the result that he received four bullets from the guns of his own guards in his body, while several convicts were killed, and the revolt was squelched. As a reward the Dominion government retired him on full salary.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

Frank Sparks, for embezzlement from the Cincinnati postoffice, gets two years imprisonment and $1,000 fine. "Bronze models" and their makers have been held for trial in New York, charged with indecent exposure. It is alleged that the old whisky trust managers received $100,000 for rebates which were never credited on the books. Hawaiian Minister Thurston will leave San Francisco for Hawaii on April 4. He has received no notice of his reported recall. Twelve men are in jail at Pittsburgh charged with the murder of Kearney Sutton, a glassworker, at Tarentum, Pa., on Saturday night. San Francisco's grand jury has again indicted Collis P. Huntington, of the Southern Pacific railroad, for violating the interstate commerce law.

WILLIAM AND BISMARCK.

Germany's Emperor Honors the Venerable Statesman.

PRESENTED A SWORD OF HONOR.

The Emperor's Presentation Speech—His Majesty Headed a Body of Troops Who Had Been Detailed to Honor the Prince. The Artillery Fires a Royal Salute.

FRIEDRICHSHAGEN, March 27.—Emperor William, who visited Prince Bismarck yesterday, accompanied by the crown prince, left the special train near the village of Annabell, where he mounted a horse, and, attended by a brilliantly uniformed staff, rode quickly to the spot selected for the assembling of the troops who had been detailed to do honor to the prince.

With Emperor William at its head this force was marched to an open space in Prince Bismarck's park, and upon arriving there the troops were deployed in parade order. Prince Bismarck had come in an open carriage, and wore the uniform of the Haaberstadter Grenadiers. The officers saluted, the troops presented arms, the bands played patriotic airs, and the emperor welcomed the prince with the greatest heartiness.

His majesty then took up a position in front of the troops, and delivered an address of congratulation to the prince. Then, in the name of the army, the emperor presented Prince Bismarck with a sword of honor of antique form, richly embossed and inlaid with gold. After this ceremony Emperor William, accompanied by Prince Bismarck, drove along the ranks of the troops, the prince returning the salutes with evident pleasure.

In presenting Prince Bismarck with the sword of honor Emperor William, referring to the presence of the cuirassiers, said that he handed him the gift in recognition of his deeds, adding: "I could not have found a better present than a sword, whether as a weapon of the ancient Germans or as a symbol of never failing resource, and upon it are engraved the united arms of the Reichsland. May your serene highness look upon this as a token of gratitude for deeds recorded in history which were brought to a conclusion twenty-five years ago. Let us, comrades, shout a hurrah for his serene highness, Prince Bismarck, duke of Lauenburg."

Recovering his composure, the ex-chancellor said: "Will your majesty permit me to lay at your feet my humblest thanks. My military position towards your majesty will not allow me to further express my feelings. I thank your majesty."

He then kissed the emperor's hands, and his majesty urged him to mount his carriage, which Prince Bismarck only did when the crown prince had first entered the vehicle and taken a seat to the right. Then the ex-chancellor, escorted by the emperor, drove in front of the troops, and after the rounds had been made the troops filed past Prince Bismarck, the emperor personally leading Bismarck's cuirassiers. Court Master Count Eulenburg brought Prince Bismarck's daughter, Countess von Rantzau, and her sons, and led them across the field to stand at the side of the prince.

After the review the cuirassiers, with the emperor in command, mounted guard at the castle. The emperor ordered double sentinels at each door, and presented all the members of his suite to the ex-chancellor.

Luncheon was served shortly afterwards, and when the emperor proposed Prince Bismarck's health the artillery fired a salute of twenty-one guns. Emperor William, in proposing Prince Bismarck's health after the luncheon, referred to the services which the latter had rendered to Emperor William I. Prince Bismarck in reply said that since 1848 he had only done his duty and nothing more. As for the recent action of the reichstag in refusing congratulations, he added, he could only deplore the lack of national sentiment thereby displayed.

The empress of Germany commissioned the crown prince to present to Prince Bismarck a beautiful basket of roses and a letter of congratulation. The young prince handed the gift to Prince Bismarck with the simple words, "From Mamma."

Emperor William has appointed Prince Bismarck's physician, Dr. Schwoninger, to be privy medical councillor, and has conferred upon Dr. Crysander, Prince Bismarck's secretary, the Order of the Crown.

Mrs. Stowe Not Violently Insane.

HARTFORD, March 27.—During the past two days the family of Harriet Beecher Stowe has been deluged with inquiries as to the condition of the noted novelist, owing to the publication in New York of a story that she had become violently insane and was to be confined in an insane asylum. Edward Beecher Hooker, M. D., her physician, issues a card in which he states that Mrs. Stowe is in better health than usual, and that she devotes considerable of her time out of doors, visiting freely her friends and neighbors.

BRONZES OF OLD BABYLON.

Casts of Figures Made Four Thousand Years Ago.

There have been placed on exhibition in the Babylonian room of the British museum some very fine specimens of Babylonian bronze castings. These interesting specimens of early metal work come from a place known to the ancients as Sippara, or Lagash, the modern name of which is Tell-lo, a large mound or site in southern Chal-
dea. One of the figures shows the king of Babylon, who appears clean shaven, in the dress of the high priest. The garment reaches down to the feet and is crossed over the left shoulder, leaving the right arm, which is raised, bare.
The statuette is a full length one, standing on its own double plinth, and is some 12 inches high. This bronze comes from Abu Habbab and dates about B.
C. 2200. A second statuette represents a king in the attitude of adoration or contemplation, having his hands raised and clasped together in a similar manner as the god Nebo is represented. The king wears a long, flowing beard, but no costume can be traced. This figure is not full length, being cut off about the calves, and represents probably the Chaldean king, Gudea, B. C. 2500.
The third figure, which stands seven inches high, represents Camil-Sin, king of Babylon, in the character of a basket bearer, both arms being uplifted and supporting a basket borne on the head.
The date of the figure is about B. C.
3200. It is supposed that these statuettes may have been dedications to Ningirsu,
the fire god, whose worship was a particular cult at Tell-lo.

The art of making bronze casts was known to the Babylonians from very early times, and many examples are to be seen in the British museum as well as in the Louvre. A plaster cast of a Babylonian queen, taken from the original in the Louvre, stands by the side of the new additions, casts of which have been sent to the French museum.

ONLY A LITTLE WORLD, THIS.

Melancholy Reflections of the Young Man
From Sank Bridge.

"What a small world it is, after all!"
said the young man from Sank Bridge, O. He had just moved to Chicago, and for some reason he was not greatly impressed with the immensity of the city.

"For instance," he went on, "I had been in my hotel but a week when I discovered that my uncle's divorced wife lived in the next room, while the man who married a girl I used to be engaged to is on the floor below. More than that, the greatest bore I ever knew in my life,
a creature who has haunted me ever since my school days, keeps a big boarding house in the next building. I have to dodge him every time I go down town. At 4 o'clock this morning, when I thought of all times I should certainly be alone, I started to walk down
State street. It was a misty morning, and the gray fog hid even the one or two all night catmen who were still sticking to their stunts. The street was lonely and deserted. I had walked slowly along down to Jackson street without meeting a human being, when suddenly out of the mist a figure loomed.

"Hello, there!" sounded a voice as we drew close together. 'I haven't seen you for a long time. I'm in pretty tough luck, old man. Can't you stake me to a bed?"

"It was a tramp printer I had known eight years ago in Leadville, Colo. I gave him 50 cents simply because he had proved to me beyond cavil that life runs in circles around a globe, and that all intersect somewhere in their circumferences."—Chicago Tribune.

Electric Shocks.

Here are some odd opinions concerning the force of the electric current given by Dr. C. F. Chandler before the Columbian School of Mines: "An interesting misapprehension which exists in the minds of many people is one concerning the vital dangers which lurk in the pressure of, say, 1,000 volts. The newspapers often tell of a man who has been killed from such a pressure, and whereas, in fact, such a pressure alone could not kill a humming bird. I have frequently caught in my hand sparks possessing an electro motive power of 100,000 volts without feeling anything more than a very slight tingle. The danger arises only when the volts are reinforced by a good many amperes or currents. In such a case the force of the current suddenly decomposes all the fluids in the body. The salt in the blood instantly turns to chlorine gas, and the person who has his veins charged with such a deadly poison cannot be expected to live many seconds."—St. Louis Republic.

Safe.

In St. Paul's one day a guide was showing an American gentleman round
the tombs. "That, sir," said the man,
"is the tomb of the greatest naval hero Europe or the whole world ever knew —Lord Nelson's. This marble sarcophagus weighs 42 tons. Inside that is a steel receptacle weighing 12 tons, and inside that is a leaden casket, ornately sealed, weighing over two tons.
Inside that is a mahogany coffin holding the ashes of the great hero."
"Well," said the Yankee after thinking awhile. "I guess you've got him.
If he ever gets out of that, cable me at my expense."—New York Dispatch.

IN FAVOR OF HORSE MEAT.

Veterinarians Say They Know of No Objection to Its Use.

"Shall we eat horse?" is a question which a Philadelphia newspaper has been putting to leading veterinarians.
While none of them answered squarely
in the affirmative, there was general concurrence in the opinion that horse meat makes rather good eating at a pinch. Francis Drake said, "The flesh is as nutritious and in flavor as good as that of the bovine, and I see no good reason to interdict its use as human food." W. L. Zail declared that he would eat it in preference to pork. It is "more juicy and of better flavor than ox flesh," he said. S. J. J. Hargan, who had once eaten a mule tenderloin, found it inferior in fiber and taste to beef.

E. M. Michener thought that horse-flesh was not injurious to "human health," and he pointed out that neither tuberculosis, actinomycosis or tri-china was found in the horse, the exception being noted that rare cases of tuberculosis had been recorded. John W. Gadsden believed that the flesh of young horses properly cooked was good for man, and he thought that if horses got much cheaper "there would be a great temptation to try it." Samuel C.
Weber said: "The flesh of the horse seems to remain tender with age and has a more pungent savor than that of other animals. From these superior qualities it may readily be seen why it should be more digestible than other meat, which often comes from animals which are prematurely as well as excessively fattened. In Europe, where raw meat is prescribed by physicians, it is generally that of the horse. They claim it is more healthy for those undergoing severe muscular exercise and more nutritious for the weak and anemic."

Alexander Glass sounded a warning in the following experience: "In two instances, when I ate horseflesh, I found the meat very tender and rather pleasant to the taste. At the time I could not shake off the thought, 'What if this horse had incipient glanders?' for some of that meat was very rare." Several years ago Dr. Huidekoper of Philadelphia invited some members of the Philadelphia club and of the City troop to a dinner, at the conclusion of which he announced to his guests, who were much pleased with the repast, that they had dined off the carcass of his old white horse Fedora.

Willy Reynard.

Those familiar with the "Fables of Æsop" will remember the reputation which Reynard bears among the rest of the animals. It is questionable whether any wild creature can compete with the fox in craftiness. To look at him generally, even in his ordinary habits, he exhibits an amount of cleverness which astonishes one. Should a fox catch a hedgehog, whose spines effectually protect him from most of his enemies, he does not waste time, as a fox terrier will do, in endeavoring to worry his prey. He merely rolls him to the nearest water, knowing that a drop or two will cause the animal to relax his hold.

It is a rare thing to catch one in a trap laid at the door of his "earth" even. If he is inside when the trap is set, he waits until some other animal springs it and then emerges to eat the victim and the bait. Only when driven by the terrible pangs of hunger will he tempt fate in his own person. Most animals gorge themselves when they are fortunate enough to come across a superabundance of food. Not so with Reynard.
Should he find a poultry yard well stocked and ill protected he fills his larders first. Nor does he, as the proverb says, "put all his eggs in one basket." He puts one fowl in a hedge, hides another in a bush, places a third in a hole in a tree, rapidly digs a fourth for a fourth and covers it up again, remembering in each case where his stores are concealed. And when his supplies are sufficient in his own estimation he takes a fine fat chicken or duck to his
"earth" for present enjoyment.

Looking Backward.

The superstition of the ill luck of looking backward or returning is a very ancient one, originating doubtless from Lot's wife, who "looked back from behind him" when he was led by an angel outside the doomed city of the plain. In Roberts' "Oriental Illustration" it is stated to be "considered exceedingly unfortunate in Hindoostan for men or women to look back when they leave their house. Accordingly, if a man goes out and leaves something behind him which his wife knows he will want, she does not call him to turn or look back, but takes or sends it after him, and if some great emergency obliges him to look back he will not then proceed on the business he was about to transact."—Exchange.

Energy In Matter.

It is estimated by Professor Dolbear that a lump of coal weighing a pound has in it energy enough to lift its weight 1,000 miles high. He says that this energy is inherent in matter; that every particle of matter is constantly exerting its force on every other particle, and that if not prevented they will come together, no matter how far apart they may be.

is responsible for many of man's (and woman's) physi-bring joy instead of woe. How? Use nothing but COTTOLENE for shortening and the pie crust will be delicate, flaky, delicious, and so healthful that even a dyspeptic can eat freely of it and be comfortable. COTTOLENE can't be lutely healthful. Genuine has this trade

F. E. NICKINSON. - } BUSINESS MANAGER

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1895.

It is talked at Albany that the Legislature will adjourn some time between May 1 and May 15. Deliverance from this vicious and blindly partisan body of "reformers" cannot come too soon.

The Democrats were successful in yesterday's charter election in Catskill, gaining control of the village government for the first time in a dozen years. Nearly the entire ticket was elected by majorities of from 25 to 105.

Unable to hold the Republican senators in line, Platt is now dickering with the Democrats, and the gossip of Albany is that if Democratic votes are given to the Lexow police bills, measures to which Democrats are opposed will not be pressed to passage. Very devious, indeed, are the ways of Republican "reformers."

The Republican convention in Port Jervis named only one of the two candidates for Water Commissioners, alleging as a reason a desire to make the Board a non-partisan body. If Port Jervis Republicans are like their brethren in Middletown, the true reason for their apparent desire for a non-partisan Board is the fact that, if it is a partisan body, it will be Democratic. In this city, where the Republicans have a majority, the desire of the bosses is to have every department of the city under party control.

English merchants are importing certain lines of American goods and exporting them to countries with which England has built up a trade. American goods would not be used to retain England's foreign trade if they were not better and cheaper than English goods. That American goods should thus take precedence over those of English manufacture is a tribute to the skill and care of American manufacturers and proves the truth of the assertion, often made by advocates of tariff reduction, that with free raw materials American manufacturers could hold their own against those of any nation in the markets of the world. For a time England's long-established and wide-reaching control of the commerce of the world may enable her merchants to exact a middleman's profit on American goods which they handle, but American push and enterprise will not long submit to this tribute, and the time is not far distant when American-made goods will go straight from American ports to the point of consumption.

Funeral of Mrs. Prudence Horton.

The funeral of Mrs. Prudence Horton took place at her late residence, on West Main street, at 2 o'clock, this afternoon. The house was crowded with friends who desired to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased.

The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

The pall bearers were Messrs. D. W. Robertson, S. S. Tooker, Wm. Inman and Dr. G. A. Emery.

Got a White Caps' Notice

Two young men, who room together on James street, own an accordion and during their leisure hours when one isn't playing the other is. The accordion is for sale.

Middletown Druggists

Give a Verdict For

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Now is the Time to Take a Good Spring Medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier. The truth of this statement is abundantly proved by the testimony of druggists and dealers who have handled Hood's Sarsaparilla in Middletown for years. Hood's Sarsaparilla is, therefore, the best and the standard spring medicine and its importance to the health of this community, by reason of its general use and because of its power to purify the blood and thus prevent and cure disease it is simply impossible to estimate. Read this testimony:

"In my opinion the excellent sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla indicate that it possesses real merit. My patrons commend it strongly as a blood purifier and general tonic. I have no medicine giving better satisfaction." J. L. MILLS, 3 Empire Block, No. Main St., Middletown, N. Y.

"I sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than all others combined many times over. So far as my customers are concerned Hood's Sarsaparilla gives good satisfaction. If it did not they would not come back and want the second, third and fourth bottle as many of them do. It is the kind that sells every day in the week with us." D. W. EVERSON, 16 West Main St., Middletown, N. Y.

"We sell Hood's Sarsaparilla right along. People claim it to be the best and cheapest medicine on earth. As a blood purifier it has no equal. The pertinacity with which my customers insist upon having Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best evidence of its popularity and merit." F. M. PRONK, Main and North Sts., Middletown, N. Y.

for a seven-room house in about nine years. $5 per month invested in the Cooperative Building Bank Thirty Day Installment Stock, as an investment, will net

the holder $1,000 in about nine years.

The above bank has a branch office in Middletown, with offices in Central immediately on good rentable home property, to buy or build homes, to be paid back by monthly installments same as rent.

CARPET TALK.

Talk is cheap, but it takes money to buy carpet; but what we want to impress on the minds of the readers of this paper is that it does not take much money to buy your carpets from us, this spring. When you can buy a 1st-class Smith's Moquette for $1 per yard, and the 2d quality for 75 cents, the very best 5-frame Body Brussels for $1, and all other grades in proportion, it seems as if every one ought to have a new carpet this spring. You will be more convinced of this when you see our new spring styles. Our line of Axminsters are "out of sight." We never before showed such a line of carpets in the 22 years we have been in business.

Respectfully, THE

LANA OIL COMPLEXION SOAP.

There are good soaps and poor soaps—some high priced soaps are good, others are poor. Lanna Oil Complexion Soap is essentially good; for a good soap it is especially low priced. Lanna Oil Complexion Soap contains Lanna Oil, Buttermilk and Glycerine. It is made in part from Oil derived from Lamb's Wool which is acknowledged to be the best preservative of the tissue removing the wrinkles from the skin and leaving it soft, pliable and elastic.

It is new in this section—largely used by Chicago belles, who know a thing or two. We had to buy a large quantity to get it at a right price—(now we can sell it at 10 cts. a cake—25 cts for three cakes.) It is the prettiest cake of soap in the market—try the quality for yourself.

Multiplied our soap sales several times under new method! Lanna Soap? Same old price, 15 cents. Some good soaps 5 cents. Not a cake of soap from a questionable source in our stock.

IT'S A LEGACY

of the Grippe, that troublesome cough. It's Connor's Cough Cure which will help rid you of it. It's only an old-fashioned remedy, Connor's Cough Cure, but it's a good one. It's 25 cents a bottle. It's made by McMonagle & Rogers, Druggists.

Ladies' Kid Gloves.

If present indications are correct, White and delicate Lemon or Canary colored gloves will be more extensively worn this season than ever before. We long ago observed the trend of popular favor, and accordingly prepared an assortment of these gloves that is not surpassed, Canary color, stitched and finished with black, has superseded pearl-white kid for demi-toilette occasions. We also had them in self stitching, but the black is more in favor. The buttons of all the smart gloves, whatever their color, are the mother-of-pearl, colored to harmonize with the gloves.

Look out for our Easter Display. It will surpass all previous efforts.

D., of the Bedford Avenue Baptist Church, Brooklyn, began suit for a separation on the ground of ill treatment, Dr. Gunning tendered his resignation of his pastorate. The congregation has voted almost unanimously not to accept the resignation, and has adopted a resolution declaring that this declaration of the resignation is intended as evidence of their continued regard for their pastor and their undiminished confidence in his Christian character as a man, a father, and a minister of the gospel.

"The Most Unkindest Cut of All."

The Press, which prints worse attempts at poetry than any paper that comes to this office, beats its own record, last night, with an ode to the bed bug, which it asserts was "suggested by Dr. Beattie's sermon on backbiting." That's the "most unkindest cut of all." Dr. Beattie's sermon may not have been just what a sermon should be, but it's a crying shame to intimate that it could have inspired such repulsive stuff as bed bug poetry.

ANOTHER SIDE TO THE STORY.

The Marital Troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Sparks and the Husband States Them.

Mr. Edward B. Sparks says an article in the Times in reference to the alleged attempt of Mrs. Sparks to commit suicide by taking laudanum does him an injustice. The story he tells of his marital troubles is as follows:

My wife and I lived happily together for eleven years. We worked and managed to get a comfortable home and all would have been well with us to-day but for a man, a supposed friend who tempted my wife and broke up my home and his own too.

This man is Frank Whitney, or as he is better known, Frank Carley. Carley and his wife lived near us in Ellenville, and the families were quite intimate. I was a collector for the Prudential Insurance Company and was away from home quite often, and having full confidence in my wife and in Carley did not object his visiting my house during my absence.

Once, about a year ago, I came home unexpectedly and discovered that an improper intimacy existed between Carley and my wife. I then went to Newburgh and stayed two weeks.

While there I had two or three letters from my wife asking me to come home and promising to do what was right by me. I did so, but was soon convinced that the intimacy had not been broken off. I then went to Spring Glen, Ulster county, where my people lived, and stayed three weeks, when I received notice that my wife had sold all our goods.

Carley's house burned down a short time before this, and he and his wife went to live with his parents. Soon after his mother died, and two days later Mrs. Sparks left in the morning and that same afternoon Carley left.

Carley sent word to his wife, through his brother, that she would never see or hear from him again, as he would never live with her again; that she could sell their goods and keep the proceeds.

The next heard from Carley and Mrs. Sparks was through letters received in Ellenville from both of them, which were mailed in St. Louis and the presumption naturally was that they were there together.

I went to Newburgh and secured employment. My wife found out where I was and came there twice to try to induce me to live with her, but I refused. I then went to Jersey City and took a position on the North Hudson Trolley Road. I was there two months; then went to Spring Glen and stayed a week and then came here. My wife was here when I came. I met her on the street and she said she wanted to talk with me at her boarding place. She wanted me to live with her, but I told her I could not. Later she sent word that she was sick and wanted to see me. She again wanted me to take her back. On Monday she sent for me again and said if I did not take her back she would kill herself. I told her that it was useless to talk about living together again as I had lost all affection for her and neither of us would happy. I told her to get a boarding place and I would do all I could to live with her, but I could not live with her.

"She went up stairs and came down again and then walked into a bedroom off the sitting room where the family with whom she was stopping and myself were sitting. One of the young ladies, who it was suspected my wife of an intention to take her life, saw her place a bottle to her lips and, rushing to her, knocked it out of her hand.

"Dr. Struble was hastily sent for, but my wife refused to take his medicine unless I would promise to live with her again. I did not want to make the promise, for I did not intend to do so, but to induce her to take the medicine, I did so."

Mr. Sparks spoke very kindly of his wife and said he felt very sorry for her. She had been a good wife until the tempter came, and he believes that she desires to live right hereafter, but he says he has lost every particle of love for her, and to live with her would be to render both of them miserable. He says that when he discovered the relations between her and Carley, he proposed that they sell out everything and go away where they were unknown and begin life anew, but she was then under Carley's influence and refused to do so. He loved her then and had suffered as no one but himself knew.

Not Going to Start a Graveyard.

We are informed that the announcement in the Press that the Tracton Co. is about to start a private graveyard on its Midway Park property, so that it can run a funeral car, is rather premature. Thus far the company hasn't had any use for a burial ground, for it hasn't killed anybody, and if good management will prevent and the good luck that has attended the company thus far continue, none will be needed.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

Personal Mention—Preparations for Easter Services in the Churches—Echoes of Marriage Bells—A Singular Easter Novelty—One Man's Idea of Love's Young Dream.

From a special correspondent.
—Rev. Dr. Mason preached at St. James' Church, last Sunday, at both morning and evening services.

—The ladies of St. James' Guild will meet to sew at the residence of Mrs. Henry C. Duryee, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—All the churches in town will hold appropriate services on Easter Sunday.

—It is reported that there will be two weddings in this village during Easter week.

—Among the Easter novelties advertised this year is an orangespoon, the handle of which is ornamented with a cross and crown, while the bowl contains the sacred monogram. Some one, doubtless animated by a desire to devise something appropriate, has succeeded in being sacrilegious. There is an irreverence about decorating anything used in eating with emblems of a holy character that would appal anyone but an American. It is related of a certain Hindoo that one day a fly fell into his wind pipe and was strangling him, when a fakir, who happened to be passing, thrust some substance down his throat which caused him to cough so violently that he ejected the insect. When the pious Hindoo found that the thing which had given him relief was a portion of the ear of a sacred cow, he at once called for a draught of molasses and that he might swallow it and so rid the earth of so execrable a monster. Fancy one of our country men troubled by any such foolish scruples. He would instantly have proceeded to patent the invention and advertise it in the daily newspapers as a new and valuable expectorant.

—No doubt the motives which lead people to commit matrimony are many and varied, but surely one of the most original was that of a man who recently married a girl solely as a part of a real estate transaction, in order that he might convey to her a piece of property for a time and, when he found it convenient, after a lapse of a few weeks, to resume possession of it, cheerfully consented to a divorce, which his bride obtained on the plea that she had received no financial compensation for her share in the deal. What sort of material will the novelist of the future have from which to construct a romance, if the opening chapter must begin in a real estate office and ends be written after a scene in the divorce court? ## THEY SUSPECTED.

But, After All, There Was a Good Reason For His Nervousness.

The traveling auditor of one of the large railways centering in the city, in following his course of duty the other day, happened upon a small way station to examine the accounts. He was accompanied by one of the lesser officials of the road, who was going around to investigate affairs. The station agent at this particular point had been exemplary in his administration of the affairs of the company. His accounts were always correct, and no fault had ever been found with him, not even in the minutest detail. But when the officials arrived this morning they both remarked that he had a very nervous, excitable manner and seemed to be annoyed at their intrusion.

So one said to the other: "We have always been in the habit of making a mere glance over this man's books, suffice as an audit, but today he seems so excited and nervous I think we had better make a thorough investigation. It looks as if there was something crooked."

They both agreed that this would only be proper, so settled down for a day's work.

When the station agent observed their unusual actions, he seemed to become more nervous and ill at ease. This the officials thought was an indication that something was surely wrong. They began work in earnest on the books, giving them a thorough overhauling. They worked away till noon, when they requested the keys, and on going for dinner looked the office, taking the station agent with them. The station man was so excited that he scarcely took a bite to eat. With a knowing wink the two officials called each other's attention to this.

After dinner they went back to the station and resumed working away on every detail of the business. The agent was becoming paler and more nervous as the investigation proceeded. They worked across a startling disclosure. But supper time came, and still the agent's honor was safe. So as they prepared to leave the office the official in a solemn tone said to the agent:

"Mr. Blank, you be back here at 7 o'clock. We may want to see you."

The agent became more flustered and at last broke out:

"But, gentlemen, I'm going to be married tonight."

Then the officials looked at each other in disgust, realizing what had been the true cause of the agent's excited condition. Finally one said:

"Well, why in the dickens didn't you tell us that before?"

And they humbly got their things together in time to board the next train for the city, which had just whistled for the station.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

An Englishman's Geography.

"So you propose to make a tour through the United States, my boy," said Englishman No. 1 to Englishman No. 2 as they sat together in a London clubroom.

"Yes, I'm going to make a hurried trip through the States."

"What parts of the country are you going to visit?"

"Well, I shall land in the city of New Hampshire and give the town a pretty thorough visit. Then I shall sail up the Georgia river to Denver and visit its famous university. Then I shall put in a few weeks in the great forests of Cincinnati, hunting the antelope. I expect to make a trip across the vast prairies of Rhode Island and shoot an elephant or two. After that I shall winter in Bar Harbor and study American society among its most select representatives. Early in the spring I shall hire a guide and go on a fishing excursion up the California river into the lakes of Chicago."

"Going to visit New York?"

"Don't know as I shall get as far as that,"—New York World.

HEART DISEASE, like

many other ailments when they have taken hold of the system, never gets better of its own accord, but constantly grows worse. There are thousands who know they have a defective heart, but will not admit the fact. They don't want their friends to worry, and don't know what to take for it, as they have been told time and again that heart disease was incurable. Such was the case of Mr. Silas Farley of Dyesville, Ohio who writes June 19, 1894, as follows:

"I had heart disease for 23 years, my heart hurting me almost continually. The first 15 years I doctored all the time, trying several physicians and remedies, until my last doctor told me it was only a question of time as I could not be cured. I gradually grew worse, very weak, and completely discouraged, until I lived, propped half up in bed, because I couldn't lie down nor sit up. Thinking my time had come I told my family what I wanted done when I was gone. But on the first day of March on the recommendation of Mrs. Annie Jones of Anderson, Ind., I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart and wonderful to tell, in ten days I was working at light work and on March 19 commenced framing a barn, which is heavy work, and I haven't lost a day since. I am 56 years old, 6 ft. 4½ inches and weigh 250 lbs. I believe I am fully cured, and I am now only anxious that everyone shall know of your wonderful remedies."

PROTECTION OF IRON COLUMNS.

Bricks In Portland Cement Successfully

Withstand Fire.

Some experiments were recently made by the building inspection department, Vienna, on the protection of iron from fire by casing it with brick. A wrought iron column 12 feet long and built of two channels connected by lattice bars was used. This was set up in a small chamber constructed of brick, and the column was heated by levers. The brick wall had in fire clay mortar. The wall did not melt closely around the column, and advantage was taken of this to fix the samples of fusible metals, which should serve as a gauge of the temperature attained.

Various samples of stone concrete and other materials were also placed in the chamber around the column. This chamber was then filled with split firewood, which was lighted, and the doors immediately walled up with slabs of plaster of paris. After the fire had broken out the doors were broken in and a stream of water turned into the room from a 14-horse-power fire engine. An examination of the room then showed that the walls of brick, laid in portland cement, retained their strength, while most of the material stone left in the chamber had been destroyed. The ceiling had been lined partly with plaster of paris and partly with terra cotta tiles. Both were damaged. The inclosure around the iron pillars was still standing firm, though corners of the brickwork were clipped one inch or so, and the fire clay mortar was largely washed out of the joints. On removing the casing, however, the pillar was found to be uninjured, even the paint being unscorched, and the fusible plugs only showed a temperature of 149 degrees F.—Engineering.

Dingbats.

The Boston Journal gives various theories as to the meaning of the word "dingbats." One writer who spent his boyhood in Maine thinks it means to spank, because his mother when getting ready to use the slipper threatened to put the "dingbats" on him. From Wilburham academy comes the explanation that it means the breakfast biscuit, which the students dispose of by sticking it to the under side of the table, throwing it at the heads of other students or eating it. A Connecticut pupil states that to receive punishment at the hands of the teacher is known as "getting the dingbats." Two Philadelphians agreed that it means money, as in the sentence, "I've got the dingbats for it." But New Hampshire agrees with Maine that it means spanking, and so the majority appears to side with the material slipper. It is from such "little acorns" that the tall tree of our almost cosmopolitan language has grown. We got "blizzard" from the west, "kukluz" from the south, "boom" from the ambitious cities, "crank" from the eccentric minds in every part of the country, "pantata" from Italy, "chalitza" from Russia. Dingbats is going to be a great convenience.

Pneumatic Tires.

Most people imagine that pneumatic tires are novelties of recent invention, and yet they were actually used on English roads nearly 50 years ago. We read that "at the Bath and west of England agricultural show, held at Guilford, a couple of carriage wheels were shown fitted with pneumatic tires. These were made by May & Jacobs for the Duke of Northumberland 47 years ago, but the carriage proving too heavy for the horse they were discarded. The tires were constructed on almost exactly the same principle as those in use on cycles today—an inner air chamber, with a stronger outer cover. When punctured, they were repaired by the same means as now adopted."—Hardware.

Blood Poison

THE BANE OF HUMAN LIFE,

Driven Out of the System by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that change of climate would benefit me, I went to Cuba, to Florida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. To-day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself, I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if in need of a perfectly reliable blood-purifier."—JOSE A. # DON'T STOP TOBACCO

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

 Dear Sirs:—I have been a tobacco smoker for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Kecley Cure," "No-To-Bacco," and other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.
 Yours very truly,

 Dear Sirs:—I have been a tobacco smoker for thirty-three years and during the past two years have used chewing tobacco very extensively. My nervous system being affected considerably, I have often tried to give up the use of tobacco, but always failed, until I bought three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." I used tobacco at the same time while taking "Baco-Curo," and after a week I lost the appetite for tobacco-smoking or chewing. I am enjoying better health, and consider your "Baco-Curo" the safest, most harmless, and reliable remedy for to break the tobacco habit.

I continued chewing tobacco while taking the preparation and find that the horrible craving for tobacco has left me, and I consider myself cured. WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."
 ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb. 4, 1895.
 This is to certify that I, F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than twenty years. About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.
 Cigarettes are sucking the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. Then I bought the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping that this may reach the unfortunate cigarette smoker, I remain,
 Yours respectfully,

RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

An Indignant Correspondent of a Household Journal Thinks They Haven't Many.

Oh, for the eloquence of Patrick Henry or Wendell Phillips! If I could "buy, beg, borrow or steal" a sufficient supply, I would devote the rest of my life to trying to open women's eyes to the wrong all about them, to the sins against countless unborn children by the treatment the mothers receive.

It aroused my indignation when I learned that in the state of New York the law was such a father had the right to will away an unborn child, and the mother must submit. When it was decided in Rhode Island that in case the parents could not agree as to the name of their child the father had the right to select the name, a feeling of contempt, mingled with amusement, arose that our wise lawmakers should devote hours perhaps to making such a law. Perhaps there was a feeling of "You beat them this time, didn't you?" when I read of the man in Alabama arrested for stealing female wearing apparel and could not be convicted, although it was proved he had taken the clothes, because it was Mrs. S. who lost them and the thief should have been arrested for stealing Mr. S.'s clothes. The women of Kansas sent words of sympathy and condolence to the women of Kentucky when they learned that by law they did not own the clothes on their backs, but all this seemed afar off and strange, and the feeling of indignation was nothing compared to that upon hearing that the supreme court of Iowa, that grand state, had reversed a decision of the lower court granting Mrs. Hall of M. damages for injuries received by falling in a water main carelessly left unguarded. They decided she was a "mere housewife," that her husband was the one who sustained injury by having his time lost. Her claim was not valid, as she could lose no time. It was all her husband's.

Ye gods! Not only is another Daniel come to judgment, but several, though it is "over the left shoulder." Women will rave when they are told men consider them property, so will some men, too, but if such decisions do not prove it I know not what does. Are we to be forever satisfied to be a mere annex to man, his equal, per or slave, as the individual man may decide? And must those who belong to the first two classes rest content because their lot is easy, close their eyes to the fact that their sisters not so fortunate are in torment, and that the law, this human imperfection, looks upon all as in one class?

Let us look into this question and not rest content as long as "one of the least of these" needs assistance. Let us not shield ourselves behind the cowardly screen, "I do not believe in woman's rights; a clever woman will get all the rights she wants," even if a talented woman does make such remarks. It is not the mother nature that speaks there. The true mother lets her clever children look out for themselves, if necessary, while she gives her care and attention to the crippled or helpless. "As ye have done it unto the least of these," said the Master, not as ye do to the clever. What though we care little for politics, wish no offices and all that, still there may be a duty for us to do. The women of Kansas are perhaps more than usually interested this year. We are proud of the women who are taking the front rank for the advancement of the race, for mothers cannot progress without its effect being seen upon the race. May truth and right prevail.—E. B. G. in Minneapolis Housekeeper.

Women Pensioners.

There are now 29 widows on the pension rolls of the government receiving $100 or more a month, and if the house agrees to the senate bills giving $100 a month to the widows of Generals Banks and Thomas L. Crittenden the list will embrace 31 names. Most of these are widows of distinguished army and navy officers and receive the $100 a month. But $166 a month goes to the widows of Generals Logan, McClellan, Fremont, Cook and F. P. Blair, and Mrs. Philip H. Sheridan and Mrs. David D. Porter get $205 a month pension, while the two living widows of presidents—Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Garfield—receive $416, or $5,000 a year.—Woman's Journal.

Woman's Era.

This is called the woman's Era. God grant that it may be an era of common sense in the kitchen; that we who have charge of the homes may awaken and realize that we are often to blame for many of our most dread diseases, especially typhoid fever, and that if we knew how to cook, and cook well, there would be far less intemperance among men. Some of our so-called "economy" must have been inspired by the devil, and the sooner we give it up the better off we will be.—Helen H. Preston in Womanland.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 21, 1893.

Dr. Hand's Colic Cure gave him instant relief and I shall always recommend Dr. Hand's Remedies for Children to all my friends.—Mrs. A. H. Gaige, 128 Nestle avenue, Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion at all drug stores, 45c.
